To Whom it may concern,

Raul and company are truly gifted and joyful folks to work with. They provided us an opening night that is still talked about. During the run of Salispuedes out in our foyer, many patrons had to make a tough choice watch the second act or enjoy learning Salsa. We had to stop the intermission action so people would get to their seats. These guys have great spirit which helps bring out the grace and trust in all of us. Especially needed to enjoy learning something new! He's a real treasure! We look forward to seeing and working with Raulo & company again.

Sincerely
